The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit."

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

"The Pullman Strike."

The above named book and an excellent article in the last Arena, gives a clear view of the great industrial contest against the exactions of Capital. Cagwin & Noteware have both for sale, as also many new books and songs. Also a fine assortment of tissue crepe paper just received.

Notice is hereby given that the Register is open from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Sundays and legal holidays, excepted, for the registration of legal voters in Carson Township, Ormsby County Nevada.

Pine Nut Notes.

H. Jacobson, a San Francisco insurance agent, has located several claims in Pine Nut.

A San Francisco Co. will commence prospecting mines in Pine Nut soon.

Felix Martin and Fred Klotz expect to commence hauling dirt from their claim to the Anderson creek in a few days.

There are about twenty men engaged in prospecting in Pine Nut. A great many people seem to be waiting for further developments in the Ziru mine. Mr. Ziru says he will show in a few days more rich rock and gold than ever was seen in the State, and that he has eighteen sacks of gravel that is almost solid gold. He says, "I don't care what people think, for I've got it rich, and the mines show for themselves."

There are many people who have locations which have been lying idle for the past three years. The camp will never amount to much as long as this state of affairs exists. Mr. Ziru thinks those who have claims should work them and try to develop the camp. He says he has taken out as high as $7,000 from one pocket, and that good prospects can be found anywhere for miles around.

Mr. Miller who has rented the Anderson ranch in Pine Nut, is digging a well and is down eighteen feet. He will keep on digging until he strikes a good flow of water or a good gold mine.

C. M. Taylor visited Pine Nut last week. He says Wm. Ziru is still taking out lots of gold. The precious metal is found almost on the surface. While Mr. Taylor was there Mr. Ziru took a pan of dirt from one of the several sacks which he had stored away and washed it out. It contained between forty and fifty dollars. Mr. Taylor is an old-timer on the coast and has seen some rich mines, but he says that the Ziru claim beats anything he ever saw.

Keogh's Colors Lowered.

A press dispatch gives an extended account of a fight October 3, between Ed. Smith and Lawrence Farrell (Bill Keogh) on the line of the Texas & Gulf road twenty miles from Denver, Colorado. The fight was given to Smith in the sixth round on a foul. The contest was fierce and bloody, but Keogh was overmatched from the start and tried to overcome the deficiency by resorting to unfair tactics. Keogh entered the ring at 171 pounds and Smith at 184.

A Female Firebug's Sentence.

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—Miss Mary Wilson, convicted of setting fire to her dwelling house on Fourth street two months ago to obtain the insurance, was this morning sentenced by Judge Dougherty to 12 years in San Quentin penitentiary. Her brother, her support and accomplice, is awaiting trial.

AN OUTRAGEOUS AMENDMENT.

Why It Should be Wiped Out of Existence.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL:—In the name of Nevada's manhood we ask, Shall it be done? Voters! You naturally ask "Shall what be done?" I answer, Shall all ex Confederate soldiers now in Nevada and who may hereafter make their homes here be disfranchised, be deprived of the right to hold office or even to vote? You ask who wants to do this monstrous thing? We answer somebody does or did, because one, and the very first one on the list of the proposed constitutional amendments, now submitted to the people of Nevada, and to be by them voted on at our next election, provides that our ex-Confederate soldiers shall not be allowed to vote or hold office in Nevada! Read for yourself Sec. 1 Art. 11 of the Constitution in reference to the right of suffrage and the qualifications of voters and you will see that if it is adopted such will be the result. Shades of the magnanimous Grant who said to the Confederate cavalry after Lee's surrender at Appomattox, "Boys, take your side arms and your horses and go home and use your horses to put in your farm crops." Grant never feared the living Confederate soldier when he faced him with musket in hand, sabre at thigh, or ordinance charged with death. And were Grant now living he would not fear the ex-Confederate with the ballot in his hand. The heroes, officers and enlisted men, the living and the dead who stood with Grant and bled for the Union would scorn such a proposition. The face of "Good Lincoln" who caused "Dixie" to be played by the military band when the news of Lee's surrender reached him saying "We have a right to the time, we have captured it" would have saddened at the very mention of such a measure.

Nearly thirty years have elapsed since the great Civil War ceased—considerable over a century of a century—there exists or existed in Nevada a far more rigorous prospective measure against a lay who entered the Confederate service after arriving of the age of 18 years than was ever adopted in any of the States of the Union. Even during the heat of the contest New York, Illinois, Massachusetts and all of the great States who sent their thousands of men to the front to battle against the Confederacy never enacted or even conceived the enactment of such a measure.

Why, fellow citizens of Nevada, if this amendment be adopted by your votes, even the Chairman of the Republican National Convention that nominated General Grant the second time for the Presidency, the Honorable Thomas S. Arthur, of North Carolina, would, were he living in Nevada at the 6th day of next month, be disfranchised, could not hold office or vote because, far as he is concerned, he broke out of the war broke out, voluntarily bore arms being over 18 years of age, against the United States, and having been Colonel in command of a regiment of volunteers in the Confederate Army, and then resigned and espoused the Union cause. The question is constantly asked, "who got up this proposed amendment?" In ancient times the question arose as to what should be done with a person who had committed some act which was generally regarded with abhorrence, detestation and horror and the ruling was, "Let his name never be mentioned." Let the oblivion of the ages cover and obscure him. So let the author of this outrageous amendment (?) never be mentioned. It would neither please his friend nor delight his foe.

Citizens of Nevada, remember that there must be a majority of the votes cast on a proposed amendment cast against it, for one in favor of it and none against it adopts it.

To the honor of the State and the credit of the Silver Party of Nevada be it remembered that that party in its platform has unequivocally declared its determined opposition to this proposition, and has been patriotically followed on the subject by both the Democratic and People's party in their respective platforms.

JAMES CASEY FOUND.

His Body Was Food For Beasts and Birds.

About six weeks ago James Casey, a resident of Battle Mountain, disappeared and it was supposed that he had met with foul play. Last Tuesday his remains were discovered by John Jory of Battle Mountain. Jory left his ranch to go out to hunt for some of his stray cattle that were roaming at large and at the same time was keeping a close watch in case that he might find any trace of Casey. In the afternoon he had gathered several of his cattle together and was driving them homeward when within a mile from his ranch and about half a mile above the old Willow Creek mill, he saw a large number of magpies soar up into the air but thought that they might be feeding on a dead horse that was lying somewhere in that locality. As he was riding along his horse finally came to a halt, after which he could not get him to go ahead, and so he alighted from his horse and walked ahead a short distance to see what was the cause of the trouble and when very near the edge of a small embankment beheld! There sat the carcass of a human being. The remains were found with the back leaning against a small bank by the side of the water which must have been the same attitude he was in when he died. All the flesh had been eaten from off his body leaving only his bones to view; his shoes were torn off from his feet and were lying close by and his pants and pieces of his coat besides some small particles of his other clothing were found to be scattered for several feet around. A bunch of keys was also found in his pants pocket and a bottle of 40 whiskey that he had when he left town on the 22nd day of last August was found close by, empty. No marks of any kind are to be found on the skull to indicate that the old man had met with foul play.

A Matter of Taste.

Steps have been taken by the Chicago authorities to prevent the sale of horse flesh for food.

We cannot imagine any reason why horse flesh should not be fully as good as beef or pork.

The horse eats exactly the same food as cattle and his flesh ought to be very palatable. The French have cooked horse meat for years and the French generally know what is food for the palate. It is all a matter of education.

Had the horse been taught to eat horse flesh and when beefing a century, the man who talked of cooking beef steaks would be regarded as a lunatic. Some years ago the writer was induced to eat mutton, make flesh under the supposition that it was the meat of an oak. The flesh was worse, tender and palatable.

We can have no hesitation in pronouncing the horse flesh for food of inferior taste. The only thing in the way of making it a popular food is the association. Eds, catfish and crabs which like to feed on dead dogs and even human carcasses are considered delicacies. It is all a matter of taste.

Two New Lawyers.

Alfred Charitz the well known stenographer, and J. W. Scott, local reporter on the Virginia Chronicle, were examined by the Supreme Court for admission to the bar yesterday. Both of them passed an excellent examination, and were duly admitted to practice and complimented by the Judges.

Mr. Charitz will probably open a law office in this city.
